

Dr. Hemily is an independent consultant with 35 years of experience of working with the public transportation industry in both Canada and the U.S., specializing in planning, management, and technology issues. His specific areas of interest are best practices, innovation, and the strategic use of advanced technology.

From 1985 to 2000, Brendon worked at the Canadian Urban Transit Association (CUTA), where he was responsible for all of CUTA's research, statistical, and technical services. Brendon has a Ph.D. in Transportation and a M.S. in Civil Engineering, both from M.I.T., and a B.A. in Economics from Columbia University. He chairs ITS Canada's Advanced Public Transit Systems Committee, is Past Chair and Emeritus Member of TRB's Public Transportation Planning and Development Committee, and is the current Chair of the TRB Public Transportation Group, which has 15 committees.