

Chris Philp is a practicing Professional Engineer licensed in the Province of Ontario. He has over 30 years of experience in both the private and public sector environments. He is an Associate Partner at CIMA with the title of Director, Transportation. He is a proven leader in the integration of a wide variety of techniques and technologies in response to ITS, safety and traffic operations issues. His project management experience involves multi-disciplinary teams and he has a reputation for quality and developing innovative solutions for clients across Canada.

Chris is also highly respected in the industry. He recently became the past Chair of ITS Canada and is on the Executive Committee. He has an excellent working relationship with clients, academics, consultants and major equipment manufactures and suppliers across Canada.